the window, flapping her arms against the pane, her forehead pressed against her arm. She had let him go; she had let him go alone. She had forgotten the danger that always beset him. She had been so crazy; she had seen nothing, thought of nothing. She had let him go into that and into the storm alone. Who knew better than she how cruel they were. She had seen the fire leap from the white blossom and heard the ball whistle, the ball they had meant for his heart—that good, great heart. She had run to him the night before. Why had she let him go into the unknown and the storm tonight? But how could she have stopped him? How could she have kept him after what he had said? He had put it out of her power to speak the word "Stay." She peered into the night through distorted tears.

The wind had gone down a little, but only a little, and the electrical flashes danced all round the horizon in magnificent display, sometimes far away, sometimes dazlingly near, the darkness doubly deep between the intervals when the long sweep of flat lands lay in dazzling clearness, clean cut in the washed air to the finest detail of stricken land and heaving woodland.

A staggering flame clove earth and sky, and sheets of light echoed it, and a frightful uproar shook the house and rattled the casements, but over the crash of thunder Minnie heard her friend's loud scream and saw her spring back from the window with both hands, palms outward, pressed to her face. She leaped to her and threw her arms about her.

"What is it?"
"Look!" Helen dragged her to the window. "At the next flash! The fence beyond the meadow."

"What was it? What was it like?"
The lightning flashed incessantly. Helen tried to point. Her hand only jerked from side to side.

"Look!" she cried.
"I see nothing but the lightning!" Minnie answered breathlessly.

"Oh, the fence! The fence! And in the field!"
"Helen! What was it like?"
"Ah, ah!" she panted. "A long line of white looking things—horrible white!"

"What like?" Minnie turned from the window and caught the other's wrist in a strong clasp.

"Minnie, Minnie! Like long white gowns and cowls crossing the fence!" Helen released her wrist from her companion's grasp and put both hands on Minnie's cheeks, forcing her around to face the flickering pane. "You must look! You must look!" she cried.

"They wouldn't do it! They wouldn't do it!" Minnie shuddered. "They couldn't come in the storm. They wouldn't do it in the pouring rain."

"Yes! Such things would mind the rain!" She burst into hysterical laughter, and Minnie seized her round the waist, almost as unnerved as Helen, yet trying to soothe her. "They would mind the rain," Helen whispered. "They would fear a storm. Yes, yes! And I let him go; I let him go!"

Pressing close together, clasping each other's waist, the two girls peered out at the landscape.

"Look!"
Up from the distant fence that bordered the northern side of Jones' field a pale, pelted, flapping thing reared itself, poised and seemed, just as the blackness came again, to drop to the ground.

"Did you see?"
But Minnie had thrown herself into a deep chair with a laugh of wild relief. "My darling girl!" she cried. "Not a line of white things—just one—Mr. Jones' scarecrow! And we saw it blown down!"

"No, no, no! I saw the others. They were in the field beyond. I saw them. When I looked the first time they were nearly all on the fence. This time we saw the last man crossing. Ah, I let him go alone!"

Minnie sprang up and unfolded her. "No; you dear, imagining child, you're upset and nervous, that's all the matter in the world. Don't worry; don't, child; it's all right. Mr. Harkless is home and safe in bed long ago. I know that old scarecrow on the fence like a book, and you're so unstrung you fancied the rest. He's all right. Don't you bother, dear."

The big, motherly girl took her companion in her arms and rocked her back and forth soothingly and petted and reassured her and then cried a little with her, as a good hearted girl always will with a friend. Then she left her for the night, with many a cheering word and tender caress. "Get to sleep, my dear," she called through the door when she had closed it behind her. "You must if you have to go in the morning. It just breaks my heart. I don't know how we'll bear it without you. Father will miss you almost as much as I will. Good night. Don't bother about that old white scarecrow; that's all it was. Good night, dear; good night."

"Good night, dear," answered a plaintive little voice. Helen's cheek pressed the pillow and tossed from side to side. By and by she turned the pillow over; it had grown wet. The wind blew about the eaves and blew itself out. Sleep would not come. She got up and laved her burning eyes; then she sat by the window. The storm's strength was spent at last. The rain grew lighter and lighter until there was but the sound of running water and the drip, drip on the tin roof of the porch. Only the thunder rumbling in the distance marked the storm's course, the chariots of the gods rolling farther and farther away till they finally ceased to be heard altogether. The clouds parted majestically, and then, between great curtains of mist, the day star was seen shining in the east.

The night was hushed, and the peace that falls before dawn was upon the wet, flat lands. Somewhere in the sodden grass a swamped cricket chirped; from an outlying flange of the village a dog's howl rose mournfully; it was answered by another far away and by another and another. The sonorous chorus rose above the village, died away, and quiet fell again.

Helen sat by the window, no comfort touching her heart. Tears coursed her cheeks no longer, but her eyes were wide and staring, and her lips parted breathlessly, for the hush was broken by the far clamor of the courthouse bell ringing in the night. It rang and rang and rang and rang. She could not breathe. She threw open the window. The bell stopped. All was quiet once more. The east was gray.

"Look!" she cried.

Suddenly out of the stillness there came the sound of a horse galloping over a wet road. He was coming like mad. Some one for a doctor? No; the hoof beats grew louder, coming out from the town, coming faster and faster, coming here. There was a plashing and tramping in front of the house and a sharp "Whoa!" In the dim light of first dawn she made out a man on a foam flecked horse. He drew up at the gate.

A window to the right of hers went screeching up. She heard the judge clear his throat before he spoke.

"What is it? That's you, isn't it, Wiley? What is it?" He took a good deal of time and coughed between the sentences. His voice was more than ordinarily quiet, and it sounded husky.

"What is it, Wiley?"
"Judge, what time did Mr. Harkless leave here last night, and which way did he go?"

There was a silence. The judge turned away from the window. Minnie was standing just outside his door. "It must have been about half past 9, wasn't it, father?" she called in a choked voice. "And you know—Helen thought he went west."

"Wiley!" The old man leaned from the sill again.

"Yes," answered the man on horseback.

"Wiley, he left about half past 9—just before the storm. They think he went west."

"Much obliged, Willets is so upset he isn't sure of anything."

"Wiley!" The old man's voice shook. Minnie began to cry aloud. The horseman wheeled about and turned his animal's head toward town. "Wiley?"

"Yes."

"Wiley, they haven't—you don't think they've got him?"

Said the man on horseback, "Judge, I'm afraid they have."

Kuropatkin Tells Gen. Stoessel That His Present Garrison Must Defend Port Arthur.

Humor Has It That Recent Russian Loss at Port Arthur Was 300.

London, March 16.—According to a correspondent at New Chwang, Gen. Kuropatkin has wired Lieutenant General Stoessel that he must hold Port Arthur with the present garrison. While there is no actual news from the theater of war, rumors are plentiful. A correspondent at Berlin gives an alleged official intimation from the Russian ambassador, Count Osten-Sacken, that Vice Admiral Makaroff has mined all the coast of the peninsula at Port Arthur, the situation of the mines extending three miles seaward.

A correspondent at Yn Kow says that the Japanese again attacked Port Arthur on March 12 as a challenge for Vice Admiral Makaroff to come out and fight. During the heavy bombardment the correspondent says the Japanese were in a position of safety from the guns of the fortress. The Russian casualties amounted to 300 killed or wounded. The correspondent adds that this is authentic.

DENIED ON AUTHORITY

Russians Ridicule Reports That Port Arthur Has Fallen.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—In the highest official quarter information is given out that there is absolutely no foundation for the rumors persistently sent out from Tokio that the Russians are abandoning Port Arthur. "It is the veriest nonsense," said the official in question. "Nothing has occurred there to warrant such reports. The Japanese fleet has not been seen for forty-eight hours. The motive of the government at Tokio in spreading this story is probably to influence public feeling in Japan for the purpose of creating enthusiasm while a war loan is being floated."

The newspapers here manifest the greatest indignation over the report, the Boerse Gazette characterizing it as outrageous and a British invention. Attention is redirected to the order of the day issued by Lieut. Gen. Stoessel, commander at Port Arthur, in which he declared that that place would never be surrendered as representing the Russian position. Relative to this point a military officer said: "This mere statement carries its own refutation, unless we meant to beat an ignoble retreat all along the line. If we abandon Port Arthur we leave our fleet there to be doomed. It is too absurd to discuss."

Gen. Kuropatkin expects to reach Mukden, March 26. Everything will be side-tracked in order to get him to the front on schedule time. The general may proceed on a flying visit to

DANDRUFF—Itching

Scalps and Falling Hair are caused by Starved hair glands. Nourish the glands, cleanse the scalp and you'll have fine, thick Hair.

—Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is a hair food, stimulant and color-restorer, cures dandruff and grows hair of a natural color.

"You certainly have got a dandruff cure and hair grower in Rexall '93' Hair Tonic. I had dandruff so badly that I hated to go among my friends. I washed and shampooed my hair, but in a day or two it would be as bad as ever, the itching at times was awful and my hair was falling out. I saw Rexall '93' Hair Tonic in the druggist's window, and on his advice and guarantee I bought it. Almost immediately my hair took on life and new color, the dandruff disappeared and I haven't had a trace of it for weeks.—CARRIE SPILCHER, 74 West 124th Street, New York City.

Port Arthur, but he is more likely to enter at once upon his duties as commander-in-chief of the Manchurian army. He bears an autograph letter from the emperor to Viceroy Alexieff to whom he will report. It is understood that the viceroy then will turn over the entire direction of the land operations to Gen. Kuropatkin, who will transmit his reports to the emperor through the viceroy, but practically this is the only point on which Viceroy Alexieff will maintain superiority.

Makaroff Is Complimentary.
Port Arthur, March 16.—Vice-Admiral Makaroff visited the torpedo boat destroyers which participated in the fight with the Japanese on March 10, and warmly thanked the officers and crew for their splendid behavior. The admiral distributed decorations. Grand Duke Cyril, cousin of the emperor, has arrived here.

Was Speedily Released.
Chemulpo, March 16.—An American miner returning from the mines at Unsan was arrested north of Ping Yang by Japanese on suspicion of being a Russian spy. He was speedily released when his identity was established.

New Cavalry Commander.
St. Petersburg, March 16.—Prince Louis Napoleon has gone to the Caucasus, accompanied by Prince Marat. Prince Louis Napoleon will relinquish his command of the cavalry division of the Caucasus and then proceed to the far East where he will take supreme command of the cavalry under Gen. Kuropatkin.

THE AMERICAN FLAG

Proved a Real Protection for Refugees in Korea.

Chemulpo, March 16.—The United States cruiser Cincinnati has returned here from Chinampo with a number of American refugees from the American company's mine at Unsan, and missions in that vicinity. The party consists of three men and twenty-two women and children. All are well. They praise the kindness of the officers of the Cincinnati, who gave up their cabins to them. The refugees traveled from Unsan to Chinampo in carts bearing American flags and were escorted as far as Ping Yang by a band from the mines. They were unmolested. Near Andju they met two small groups of Cossacks. During the party's stay at Ping Yang the Japanese requested them to wear badges bearing the American colors in order that they might be allowed to leave and enter town freely. The party was stopped five times by Japanese soldiers of whom the party saw great numbers along the road to the coast. The Japanese treated them very courteously.

KUBELIK ROUTED
Bohemian Violinist the Subject of Race Hatred.

Vienna, March 16.—German Czech race hatred led to a serious riot at Ling, the capital of Upper Austria, where a mob of infuriated Germans in revenge for the ill treatment of their compatriots at Prague, stormed the hall in which Jan Kubelik, the Bohemian violinist, was giving a concert, compelling the artist to seek safety in flight. The manager had been warned to cancel the engagement owing to fears of such a demonstration, but he declined to do so. The mob forced the police cordon, invaded the hall, smashed the decorative mirrors and threw missiles at Kubelik. The concert was stopped and the audience dispersed amidst a fire of offensive epithets.

Murderous Conspiracy Hinted At.
Pueblo, Colo., March 16.—Chris Evans, financial agent of the United Mine Workers, who was assaulted near Trinidad, has given the authorities a clew which they are investigating in the form of anonymous letters sent to Wm. Wardjon, national organizer, Mr. Evans and others, warning him and the other officials to leave the camp within two days. The letter also referred to "Mother" Jones and was signed "33." No attention was paid to it at the time, but Mr. Evans now thinks it a part of the well formed plot to kill the officials.

Mother Cremated Baby.
Edwardsville, Ill., March 16.—A coroner's jury has returned a verdict holding Gusta Sinek, aged twenty-one, on a charge of having killed her baby. The woman came from Bohemia and has only been in this country a short time. The members of the family with whom she was living here discovered her poking the kitchen stove and upon investigation found the half charred remains of the baby.

NO FEAR OF A MOB

But for All That McDonald Will Not be Taken to Bedford.

THE JAIL IS INSECURE

Man Accused of the Murder of Miss Schafer Will be Held at Bloomington.

Grand Jury Feels Moral Conviction That Indictment Was Well Founded.

Bloomington, Ind., March 16.—It is the agreement between Judge Wilson and Prosecuting Attorney Miller that the trial of James McDonald, for the murder of Miss Schafer, will be set down during the May term of court at Bedford. Judge Wilson's health is not good, and the docket is now crowded. Miller says that the trial will take ten days. Mr. Miller also says that McDonald will be taken to Bedford for arraignment after which he will be returned to this city for safe keeping. There is no fear of mob violence at Bedford, but the old jail is an unsafe structure. It is no secret that the grand jury, in returning an indictment against McDonald, did not stop with sufficient to warrant a report, but went into the testimony in detail, until morally certain that conviction would follow trial.

ANOTHER VICTIM

Wabash Clairvoyant Found a Credulous Woman.

Wabash, Ind., March 16.—Another victim of clairvoyant Terroll, who fled from this city after a stay of two weeks has come to light. Augusta Schultz, a German girl, who came here recently, announced that she had placed $1,000 in Terroll's hands on the latter's promise that he would double her money in four weeks.

The confiding young woman called on Terroll a week ago and told him she had $950 in bank. He told her she was foolish not to have it earning something and suggested that he knew a way to make it earn a big profit without risk. On his advice she got the money and took it to him. He sealed it in an envelope and placing it on a string, hung it around the girl's neck, telling her not to open the envelope until a month from that day.

The girl followed the instructions until she learned of the fraud perpetrated upon Mrs. Lee Porter, who lost $500, and opened the envelope and discovered that her money was gone. No trace has been discovered of Terroll.

Collins to Bear Blame.

Indianapolis, March 16.—In the opening of the trial, in the United States district court, of Justus L. Brodick, president of the defunct Indiana National bank, at Elkhart, who is indicted on charges of wrecking that institution, it was made plain by the attorneys for the defense that an effort is to be made to place all the blame for the failure of the bank and all of the criminality on Cashier W. L. Collins, who, after the charge of embezzlement placed against him had been nolle prossed, pleaded guilty to the charges of making false entries on the books of the bank and false reports to the comptroller of the currency.

Plaintiff Secured Damages.

Crawfordsville, Ind., March 16.—The jury in the Gregg damage suit returned the following verdict: "We, the jury, find for the plaintiff and assess her damages at $3,000." This damage suit was brought by Mrs. June Gregg, the divorced wife of George Gregg, who charged that Mrs. Sarah Gregg, mother of the husband, had alienated his affections from his wife. Mrs. June Gregg asked for $10,000 damages. The case was on trial for four weeks and the argument occupied one week.

Traction Merger Reported.

Brazil, Ind., March 16.—It is reported here on good authority that George F. McCulloch, of the Union Traction company, has bought from the Terre Haute Electric company the Terre Haute electric lighting plant, the Terre Haute street car line, the Brazil & Terre Haute interurban line, the Brazil street car line and the Brazil electric lighting plant.

Hemenway Renominated.

Mt. Vernon, Ind., March 16.—For the sixth time Congressman James A. Hemenway, of Booneville, was nominated yesterday by the Republicans of the First district. The two delegates to the national convention were instructed to vote for the renomination of President Roosevelt.

Child Scalded to Death.

Indianapolis, March 16.—A pot of hot coffee, upset by the baby's mother, ended the life of one-year-old Clyde Myers, child of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Myers. The mother lifted a pot of coffee from the stove and accidentally overturned it on the little one, who was seated nearby.

AT HALF MAST.

Sometimes we are greeted in the morning by flags at half-mast for some prominent official who yesterday was apparently in perfect health. When we inquire the ailment by which he was stricken it is not uncommon to be told "acute indigestion" or "stomach trouble."

It is time people learned that indigestion or any form of "stomach trouble" is not a thing to trifle with. The result may not be fatal, but there can be no condition of diseased stomach which does not carry with it physical loss and weakness. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures indigestion and other forms of disease affecting the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

"Thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. Charles H. German, of Leighton, Pa. "It is the only medicine that has done me any good. I tried everything I could think of to cure indigestion, and found I was only throwing away money. Then I heard of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and tried a bottle of it, and to my joy found it was doing me good. I used six bottles of it, and am now cured. It is the best medicine on earth."

This grand remedy does its work in a thorough manner; it gives the health that is all health; the strength that is solid, substantial and lasting; not flabby fat, not false stimulus, but genuine, complete, renewed vitality and life force.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its consequences.

DON'T NEGLECT

Your Stomach and Bowels. So much depends upon them. Your health, happiness, and even your life is controlled largely by these organs. It is therefore very important at the first symptom of the stomach becoming weak or the bowels constipated that you take a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. ## Christian Church Revival.

The interest in the Christian Church revival continues unabated. Last night's sermon "Why Stand Ye Idle," was one of the best given so far in the series. Brother Jackson had complete control of his subject and gave his thoughts in strong words. He said in part: Don't wait for work to come to you but get up and stir about and do whatever your hands find to do. Each man and each woman has a talent, which he must develop and increase and bring it as his portion of service to God. Now is the time to begin to enlarge your talents by working for the Lord, for "The Harvest is Ripe and the Laborers Few."

SOME PLAIN TALK

Mr. Hemenway Dispels a Lot of Idle Political Gossip.

Indianapolis, March 16.—There were some things in Congressman Hemenway's speech of acceptance that have given the party leaders some food for thought. He is regarded as one of the real Republican leaders in congress and what he says out here has much weight so therefore his plain endorsement of President Roosevelt and declaration that he would be nominated is doing a lot towards dispelling the talk that Roosevelt may after all be defeated in the convention and that in Indiana there is a deep-seated movement to turn him down. Congressman Hemenway has also been regarded as a candidate for the United States senate in case Senator Fairbanks is nominated and elected vice-president and it has been said that he was one of the originators of the Fairbanks boom but he stated in his speech at Mt. Vernon that both Senator Fairbanks and Senator Beveridge should be retained in the senate. He may become a candidate if there is a vacancy but to politicians it does not look now as if he is trying to create the vacancy.

The Republican political pot is fairly boiling over in the Eleventh district and from word received here today the temperature is highest at Wabash where it seems that Landis and his friends have gained the upper hand by a shrewd move. The delegates are to be selected by direct vote and there is to be but one voting place in each township. As there are over 2,200 votes in the township where the city of Wabash is located it is not evident how so many people are going to be permitted to cast their votes in the time specified in the call. It has been figured out that if one man a minute should vote for fourteen hours at three booths that many would not be able to get in. Major Steele's friends are afraid that the voting places may be packed with Landis' men as the latter have control of the election machinery. An appeal has been made to Chairman Dicken of the Wabash county committee to provide for more voting places but up to this time he has stuck to the original plan. Every inch of ground is being fiercely contested by the two candidates.

It is not likely that there will be more than one new Democratic congressman after the November elections. The new Democratic member will be Lincoln Dixon of the Fourth who is now practically assured of nomination without opposition. Congressman Griffith's withdrawal, it is generally understood, was in Dixon's favor. Joe Shea of Seymour and Joe Cravens of Madison prospective candidates, have also stepped aside and it is now said that P. H. McCormack of Columbus, the only prospective candidate left in the field, has decided to become a candidate for mayor. State politicians who know Dixon feel sure that he will rank well with the other members from Indiana.

Senator Eben H. Wolcott of Wolcott one of the most popular members of the legislature during the last two sessions was here today enroute to Florida. He expects to return soon, however, as he is in the midst of a very hot race for renomination, there being two active candidates besides himself in the field. He is an enthusiastic friend of J. Frank Hanly of Lafayette and is very hopeful that Hanly will have a solid delegation from the Tenth, although he confirmed the report that Hanly's enemies at Lafayette are doing all in their power to undermine him there and in other counties in his own district.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it today—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

SURE INDICATIONS OF BAD BLOOD

OLD SORES, ULCERS, ABSOESSES

The best evidence of a bad condition of the blood and unhealthy state of the system, is an old festering sore, running ulcer, or abscess. They show the bodily impurities are not passing out through the proper channels, but are left in the system to clog and poison the blood. So thoroughly does the poison permeate the system that every little scratch, cut or bruise inflames and festers. Everything about an old sore or ulcer suggests disease. They affect the general health, they require constant attention, and are a source of anxiety and trouble all the time, and in some cases highly offensive. There is danger, too, of these places becoming cancerous if not treated promptly and in the right way. Washes, salves and ointments are good for external use, but they can't stop the discharge or change the condition of the blood, and for this reason the sore never heals permanently.

Not until the blood is purged of impurities and the system cleansed of all harmful substances should the ulcer heal, or the effect upon the system might prove disastrous. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and searches out and removes the cause of the old sore and invigorates and builds up the polluted, sluggish blood again, and as the poisonous matter is driven from the system the sore begins to heal, new flesh forms and the place is soon covered over with fresh skin and the sore is gone for all time. Where the constitution is debilitated from the effects of chronic sores, ulcers, abscesses, carbuncles, boils or other severe skin eruptions, S. S. S. will build it up again and stimulate and strengthen all parts of the system. S. S. S. contains no strong minerals, but is guaranteed entirely vegetable. It is unequalled as a Blood Purifier and invigorating tonic. Do not depend upon local remedies alone. Get your blood right, and as it forces out the poison the sore must heal, because nothing is left in the system for it to feed upon. Write us should you desire medical advice, which is given without charge.

A NOTED WOMAN.

Cousin of Late U. S. President Zachary Taylor.

76 Years of Age, Recommends Vinol for Old People.

Mrs. Sarah J. Windrom of 429 W. Erie street, Chicago, a member of one of the most distinguished families in the country, cousin of Zachary Taylor, 12th President of the U. S., and grandniece of Alexander Hamilton, who signed the Declaration of Independence writes:

"Vinol is a godsend to old people. I am 76 years old, but I feel active and well today, thanks to the vitalizing effects of Vinol.

"My appetite is all that could be desired. I sleep well, and my mind is clear, and I am interested in the affairs of life as I was fifty years ago.

"When I was young cod liver oil was dispensed in a greasy, unpalatable form, and it fairly gagged me to get it down. Vinol is so different, palatable and nourishing to impoverished blood.

"I feel so much stronger, both mentally and physically, since I used Vinol that I feel it my duty as well as a pleasure, to recommend Vinol as the finest tonic I ever used in my life."

MRS. SARAH J. WINDROM.

Such words of praise from a person of such high standing must be accepted as unquestionable proof of the superiority of Vinol.

Do you wonder that our Vinol has such a strong hold upon the esteem of doctors and patients? We know of nothing else that will accomplish such wonderful results: and, remember, Vinol is not apatent medicine.

There are hundreds of old people in this vicinity who need just such a strength-maker and tissue-builder as Vinol. Their blood is thin and sluggish—Vinol will enrich and quicken the blood and build up the system. It is so much better than whiskey and strong stimulants which always have a bad after effect and weaken and break down. There is nothing in the world so good for the weak, the aged or the run-down system and to cure a hanging on cold or hacking cough as Vinol, and because we know so well what it will do we are always ready to refund every cent paid us for it if it fails to do what we say. Try it on our guarantee. W. F. Peter Drug Co.
